DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 provides for the use of spring tension bearing, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced. Claims 2-3 are also indefinite on the same ground as described above to claim 1 because claims 2-3 depend from claim 1.

Claims 1-3 are also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Further in claim 1, the instant claimed structural features and structural correlations among the claimed features are not clear.

In claims 2 and 3, it is not clear as to what structures or structural limitations are covered by the language recited in claims 2-3. Applicant is suggested to avoid making references to the instant disclosure or any other disclosure to define the instant claimed invention.

Applicant is suggested to rewrite the instant claims, i.e. in the form similar to the claims set forth in Patent No. 5,373,791.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-3 (as best can be determined) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ernst (US 3,076,288).

Ernst, Figure 1, shows elements 25 and 26 forming an electrical contact device that is capable of being used as broadly recited in the instant claims 1-3.

Regarding the instant claimed intend uses or how the electrical contact device is used, as recited in claims 1-3, note that a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Applicant should further consider the structures of Bonanno, Munzing, Bienvenue, and Bach.
